Welcome from the National Conservation Foundation

On behalf of the National Conservation Foundation (NCF), welcome to the 35th annual Envirothon competition hosted in New York! Congratulations to all the teams who participated in Envirothon competitions this year. Your passion and dedication to conservation help to make a brighter future for us all!

We are excited to meet the students, teachers, guests, and volunteers attending the competition this year. You will get to see and experience a side of New York that many don’t know! When most people hear the words ‘New York’, they think of skyscrapers, Broadway, the Statue of Liberty, and the almost 9 million people residing in the metropolis that is New York City. But what many don’t think about are the 54,556 square miles of mountains, rivers, coastline, farmland, cities, and wilderness that is the entire State of New York.

The City of Geneva, located in Upstate New York on the shores of Seneca Lake, will be the home base for the 2024 annual competition and has a history stretching back millions of years. Formed by a glacier some 2 million years ago, Seneca Lake is the largest and deepest finger lake, with a max depth of 630 ft (200 ft below sea level) and holding 4.2 trillion gallons of water. Its size moderates the temperature of the surrounding land, making it ideal for the fruits, vegetables, dairy, and field crops that currently support the local economy.

Its mild climate also made the region ideal for the semi-nomadic indigenous people that first inhabited New York state. The area was eventually settled by the Seneca people, part of the great Iroquois Confederacy or Haudenosaunee that created the Great Law of Peace. These governing principles established a model for federalism, separation of powers, and participatory democracy that many say helped to inspire the U.S. Constitution.

During the 2024 annual competition, we will be housed on the campus of Hobart and William Smith Colleges, and learn more about the 2024 Current Issue topic, “Renewable Energy for a Sustainable Future.” During the week, the teams will learn how New York State is working to build a vibrant renewable energy industry.

Finally, NCF would like to thank the New York Host Committee, the New York State Envirothon program, and all the New York supporters and volunteers hosting us in their beautiful state. During your stay in New York, please show your appreciation to all the dedicated individuals who have spent hundreds of hours preparing for this over the last few years!

Good luck to you all and we look forward to seeing you in New York!
Welcome from the New York Envirothon Committee

From July 27-August 3, 2024, you will be joining us and over 500 visitors at Hobart William and Smith in beautiful Geneva, New York. Immersed in the Finger Lakes and surrounded by nature and culture, this beautiful campus is an ideal location for you to spend the week. As the host of the big event this summer, we are excited to welcome you to New York to see all that we have to offer!

The New York Envirothon is a registered charity and non-profit organization, operating under the New York State Conservation District Employees’ Association (NYSCDEA).

We hope you take the time over your visit to see what New York all is about, including our natural beauty, culture, big cities and small towns. Most importantly, we hope you enjoy your time at the 2024 NCF-Envirothon New York.

Welcome to New York!

New York is bordered by Canada and Lake Ontario in the north; Pennsylvania, New Jersey, and the Atlantic Ocean in the south; Lake Erie in the west; and Connecticut, Massachusetts, and Vermont in the east.

The St. Lawrence-Champlain Lowland runs along the edge of the Adirondack Mountains and the Canadian border. In this hilly area, you can see Lake Champlain and Thousand Islands, a collection of small islands that sit between New York and Canada.

The Adirondack Upland, known for the Appalachian Mountains and its forests, waterfalls, and lakes includes New York’s highest peak, Mount Marcy. The Hudson-Mohawk Lowland contains much of the Hudson and Mohawk River valleys, and the Allegheny Plateau, stretching from Lake Erie along the border with Pennsylvania, includes the 11 Finger Lakes and the forested Catskill Mountains.

The Erie-Ontario Lowland is a plain dotted with oval-shaped mounds called drumlins. It reaches the shores of two Great Lakes: Erie and Ontario. Stretching out toward the ocean is the Atlantic Coastal Plain. It includes the sandy beaches and bays of Staten Island and Long Island.

The nickname of New York is the Empire State. It was the 11th state and was formed in 1788. The capital of New York is Albany.

What to Expect while you visit Seneca County, New York...

Welcome to Hobart William and Smith Colleges

Mission: Hobart and William Smith Colleges prepare students to lead lives of consequence.

Originally founded as two separate colleges – Hobart College in 1822 and William Smith College in 1908 – Hobart and William Smith Colleges today enjoy a rich and unique history that spans 200 years on Seneca Lake.

Hobart and William Smith Colleges is a member of the New York Six Liberal Arts Consortium, an association of highly selective liberal arts colleges.

At Hobart and William Smith Colleges, they strive to create a just and inclusive environment where all students, faculty and staff are valued and respected. They believe that diversity in identity and perspective enriches our community and prepares us all to lead lives of consequence. They recognize that historical practices and policies have privileged certain groups while excluding others from institutions of higher education, and thus the work of diversity at HWS seeks to account for those inequities by promoting college access and working to ensure that every member of the HWS community has an equal opportunity to thrive.

In April 2024, Hobart and William Smith's commitment to environmental sustainability reached a milestone, HWS is one of only eleven colleges and universities nationwide to achieve net zero greenhouse gas emissions. HWS generates electricity from two nearby solar farms — together representing one of the largest solar installations at a higher education institution in New York State — that deliver roughly 50 percent of the campus’ electricity. Beyond solar powered energy, the remaining portion of campus electricity is offset by wind power generated elsewhere in the U.S., which HWS supports by purchasing credits. Offset credits also neutralize HWS’ other direct emissions, like those produced by heating campus buildings, as well as indirect “Scope 3 emissions” produced, for instance, by off-campus travel as part of study abroad programming or athletics competitions. In December, the Princeton Review’s Guide to Green Colleges: 2024 Edition recognized Hobart and William Smith as one of the most environmentally responsible schools in the country.
