CULTURAL CONNECTIONS: DID YOU KNOW?

Ribbon skirts are worn as a symbol of identity, pride, and alliance. Your host, the Alberta Envirothon team, wears both ribbon skirts and shirts to demonstrate their alliedship with the Indigenous peoples of this land. Stay tuned for more Cultural Connections this week.

ATTENTION ADVISORS:

Please make sure your team has the essentials for the day. It will be cold and rainy today, so layers & rain gear should be in the students' backpacks! Don't forget to attend your morning meeting!

Guest: Kiersten Ovi

ALL ABOUT ALBERTA

Wood Buffalo National Park features the largest beaver dam in the world; it's so large that it's visible from space! It is also home to the world's largest wood bison herd, and is the last natural nesting site for the endangered whooping crane.

YESTERDAY'S HIGHLIGHTS

The wet, chilly weather didn't stop the students from having a very successful training day! While the youth were filling their brains with knowledge from the fantastic subject matter experts, guests took part in a wonderful tour of Lake Louise & Canmore, both stunning components of the iconic Rockies. The students attended their study session in the evening, and prepped for their testing day today.

Good luck with your tests today!!

SHARE YOUR PHOTOS

Hey students! Post your pictures or videos on social media using the hashtag #2025ncfenvirothon and your team's name while holding/sporting some sweet 2025 NCF-Envirothon swag for a chance to win!

DID YOU KNOW?

There are some pretty interesting foods that are showcased at the annual Calgary Stampede. Who could resist a Skittles hot dog? What about maple bacon cheesecake? How about apple cinnamon perogies? Fruit Loops chicken burger? If you want to try one, you will have to attend the Stampede next July!
